INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY IN TODAY'S BUSINESS WORLD

Significance of IT in today's corporate world

Information technology is a modern phenomenon that has dramatically changed the daily lives of individuals and businesses throughout the world. Companies rely on IT for fast communications, data processing and market intelligence. IT plays an integral role in every industry, helps companies improve business processes, achieve cost efficiencies, drive revenue growth and maintain a competitive advantage in the marketplace.

Developing a business strategy with an IT component that is aligned with business objectives, and is supported by sound business justification will enable organizations to improve performance, increase productivity and serve customers more effectively. It will also help mitigate the risks involved with technology decisions.

Challenges faced with regard to the smooth functioning of IT operations

Disaster recovery is becoming an increasingly important aspect of enterprise computing. As devices, systems and networks become ever more complex, there are simply more things that can go wrong. As a consequence, recovery plans have also become more complex.

Information technology is facing major challenges which are lack of privacy, security, copyright infringement and increased computer crimes. Criminals have been eagerly utilising the many loop holes technology offers. Since information technology greatly aid the speed, flow and access of information, cybercrime has become an ever rising profession. Many businesses and organizations are at risk of becoming a cyber-victim on a daily basis and we need to guard against this appropriately.
